The following are the guidelines to determine eligibility of students for the Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund (HEERF) emergency assistance provided by CARES Act:

The requirements to determine eligibility under the guidelines issued by the Federal Department of Education are:

- Although it is not a requirement to have completed the FAFSA, we recommend students to fill it out because it is the most practicable way to demonstrate student's eligibility to Title IV federal student aid programs and meets all general student eligibility criteria in Section 484 of the HEA. Otherwise, students will need to prove eligibility through documentation detailed below in the eligibility criteria table.

- Be a United States citizen or national, be a permanent resident, or belong to an eligible noncitizen category (Excludes foreign students with a study Visa).
  - Have a valid Social Security number.
  - Maintain satisfactory academic progress (SAP)
  - Have a high school diploma or its recognized equivalent
  - Be registered in the Selective Service (Male students).
  - Have no debt from an overpayment (refund) in Title IV grants.
  - Not be in default on a Title IV loan.
  - Have returned any fraudulently obtained Title IV funds, if the student is convicted of or pled guilty or no contest to charges.
  - Not have fraudulently received Title IV loans in excess of annual or aggregate limits
  - Have repaid any amount of the Title IV loan overpayments that exceeds the aggregates limits, if the overpayment is inadvertently obtained.
  - File with the Department of Education as part of the original financial aid application process, a certification (Statement of Educational Purpose) that includes:
    - A statement of educational purpose
    - Student's Social Security Number (SSN)
  - Not have a federal or state conviction for drug possession or sale.
7. Any instructions, directions, or guidance provided by the institution to students concerning the Emergency Financial Aid Grants.

Students who have not completed the FAFSA were granted until Friday, May 23, to fill it out so the Emergency Financial Aid disbursement can be processed. After this date, students who did not complete the FAFSA need to submit all required documentation to validate eligibility in order to process the Emergency Financial Aid payment.

The University of Puerto Rico in Cayey with the Central Administration of the UPR currently provides instructions and guidance to all its constituents (including students) through emails and a website created for this purpose (<https://cayey.upr.edu/ley-cares-act-ayuda-heerf/>). (It was recommended to students to certify their need for emergency assistance for expenses disrupting campus operations due to coronavirus (including eligible expenses under the cost of a student assistance such as food, course materials, technology, medical expenses and child care) on or before June 30, 2020.
